I'm sure you are aware of the current state of the oil industry and the detrimental effect this dreadful recession has had and continues to have on many companies, large and small. Like others, Maritech tightened its belt a while back in order to weather the storm, but with no change in sight and after much deliberation, I have decided that after 27 years, with my husband Bob at the helm for 17 of them, the time has come for the company and me to retire gracefully. So it is with a few regrets and many fond memories that I therefore have to tell you that Maritech Consultants Limited has decided to call it a day.

While Maritech will not be undertaking any new projects, we can still be contacted during the weeks it takes to finalise matters.

It just remains for me and the team to thank you sincerely for working with Maritech and our various clients over the past years and to wish you every success in the future.

A handwritten signature in black ink that reads 'A. E. Downing'. The signature is written in a cursive style with a large, looping flourish at the end.
